

Iowans Favor Income Tax Constitutional Protection

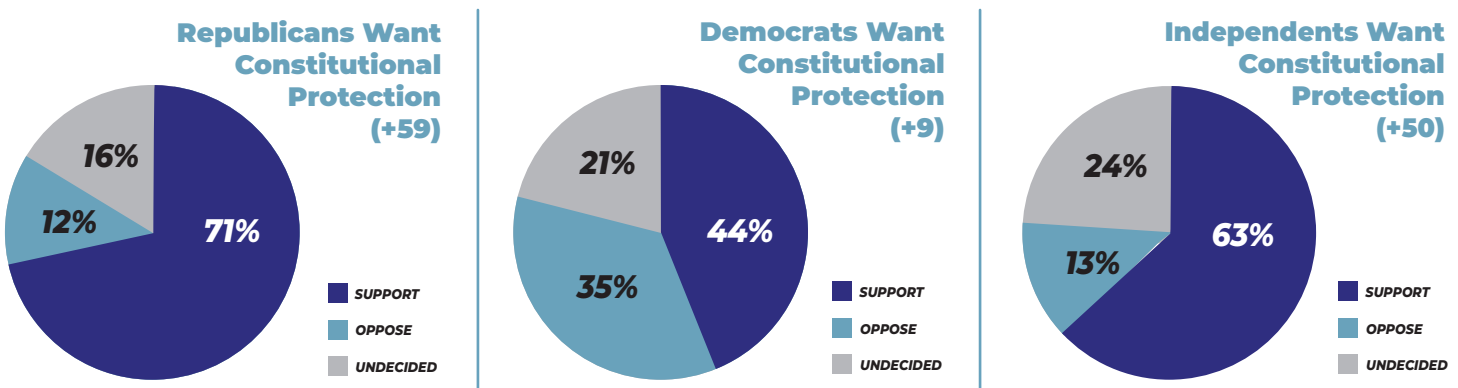

The most recent ITR Foundation Poll measured public opinion on constitutional protection against income tax increases by asking:

Would you support or oppose a proposed constitutional amendment requiring a two-thirds majority in the legislature for any measure to increase Iowa's income tax?

These topline results show the issue has a net favorability among Iowa voters of 43%, with 61.3% of poll respondents supporting new limits, and only 18.4% of respondents opposing them. This issue seems to transcend party lines, as well, with a breakout of Republican, Democrat, and Independent support provided below.

*This probabilistic survey was conducted by Cygnal from April 3-4, 2023, with 600 likely general election voters. The full poll is available at ITRFoundation.org.
